Set among some of the most breathtaking seaside landscapes on the planet, the Cinque Terre are five coastal villages in the province of La Spezia in the Ligurian region of Italy. These five constructed fishing villages can unwind the most tormented souls. A Unesco World Heritage Site since 1997, Cinque Terre is known as the undiscovered Eden. Sinuous paths traverse seemingly impregnable cliff sides, while a 19th-century railway cuts through a series of coastal tunnels that connect villages of Monterosso al Mare, Vernazza, Corniglia, Manarola, and Riomaggiore.
